

AMERICAN SLAVERY.— On Thursday evening last Miss Remond addressed an intelligent and respectable audience in the Day Star School-room, Penketh. Robt. Gaskell, Esq. in the chair. Miss Remond was free from the feelings which she experienced in Liverpool, arising from the novelty of first addressing an English audience; and also from the excitement, consequent upon the immense assemblage which greeted her advent in Warrington. The calm and deliberate appeal to the understanding of her auditors without any attempt to captivate the imagination by a detail of the slaveholding system, proves that she possesses powers of eloquence of a high order; and shewed her eminent fitness as an advocate of the cause to which she is devoted. The profound attention manifested by the audience, and the intelligent response conveyed by every face, shewed that she was fully appreciated. As the lectures in Liverpool and Warrington were delivered without charge for admission, the inhabitants of Penketh have the satisfaction of feeling, that they are the first in England to contribute pecuniary aid to this zealous advocate of Negro Emancipation.

AMERICAN SLAVERY. — On Thursday evening last Miss Remond addressed an intelligent and respectable audience in the Day Star School-room, Penketh. Robt. Gaskell, Esq. in the chair. Miss Remond was free from the feelings which she experienced in Liverpool, arising from the novelty of first addressing an English audience; and also from the excitement, consequent upon the immense assemblage which greeted her advent in Warrington. The calm and deliberate appeal to the understanding of her auditors without any attempt to captivate the imagination by a detail of the slaveholding system, proves that she possesses powers of eloquence of a high order; and shewed her eminent fitness as an advocate of the cause to which she is devoted. The profound attention manifested by the audience, and the intelligent response conveyed by every face, shewed that she was fully appreciated. As the lectures in Liverpool and Warrington were delivered without charge for admission, the inhabitants of Penketh have the satisfaction of feeling, that they are the first in England to contribute pecuniary aid to this zealous advocate of Negro Emancipation. —