

The lecture of Mr. Nell, in the Third Baptist Church of this city, "On the Eleva[-]tion of the Colored People," was quite a successful effort. The lecturer brought together many interesting and important facts, in science, history, and our every-day experience, very well calculated to quicken, expand and enlighten the minds of his audience. He did not pretend to the merit of originality, but merely to have gathered up the words and views of others, which he deemed useful to a people situated as we are.

His remarks on the importance of industry, frugality, sobriety, and reading, were happy, clear, and effective. We hope he may often be induced to repeat his lecture before colored assemblies, as we are sure its repetition will do much good. At the close of the meeting, we being called upon for a speech, moved a vote of thanks to the speaker for his address, which was unanimously adopted, and the meeting adjourned.
